

2011 & 2010 Annual Report

"Philanthropy is involved with basic innovations that transform society, not simply maintaining the status quo or filling basic social needs that were formerly the province of the private sector."

- David Rockefeller

ABOUT

The David Rockefeller Fund was established in 1989 by David Rockefeller and his wife Peggy to carry out their annual charitable giving in communities where they had homes outside New York City. In 2001, David Rockefeller expanded the Fund and invited his children and grandchildren and their spouses, to take a more active role in the Fund with the idea of transferring to them his philanthropic legacy.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

In its work, the Fund seeks to address the root causes of problems, working both locally and on a broader policy level guided by the following principles:

FAMILY LEGACY

We seek to honor the philanthropic traditions and values exemplified by David and Peggy Rockefeller, recognizing the responsibility that we have to be active and engaged participants in our communities, as well as in the larger world.

RISK TAKING

We will not shy away from difficult social issues; indeed we believe that our greatest impact often results from taking on exactly those problems which more traditional funders tend to avoid.

LEVERAGE

As a small foundation committed to tackling big issues, we value collaboration and work to identify those grantmaking opportunities where our family's tradition of philanthropy will help bring attention to difficult problems. We are committed to doing the greatest possible good with the resources we have.

RESPECT

We respect our grantees as equal partners in the work we do. Our general approach is to identify people and institutions doing important work and then support them in ways they will find most meaningful, without imposing undue burdens on them.

FLEXIBILITY

We recognize that one of our particular strengths as a family foundation is the ability to act quickly and be responsive to the real-time needs of our grantees.

SELF-EXAMINATION

Since we are committed both to taking risks and to achieving the greatest possible impact, we understand the importance of assessing our activities on a regular basis in the hope that our funding can make a demonstrable difference, both for the issues we care about and the non-profit organizations we support.

GRANTMAKING PROGRAMS

The David Rockefeller Fund currently has four primary program areas: Arts, Criminal Justice, Environment, and Community. The Community grants program continues to support more than 80 local non-profit organizations annually in Maine, Westchester and Columbia Counties, New York with grants ranging from $500 to $10,000. Since its inception, the Community Program has awarded grants totaling over $3.5 million.

The Arts program focuses on access and engagement; Criminal Justice promotes a more humane and fair criminal justice system; and Environment addresses climate change and local sustainability efforts. Between 2001 and 2010 the Fund awarded grants totaling over $4 million to more than 80 organizations in the Arts, Criminal Justice, and Environment. In 2011, 29 grants were awarded to 29 organizations in Arts, Criminal Justice, and Environment totaling $865,000.

In addition to the program areas outlined above, the Fund underwrites a number of initiatives designed to encourage family members' individual philanthropic involvement and interests, as well as collaborative grantmaking by the family.

Grants listed in this report reflect awarded, not paid gifts.

EMPHASIS

Arts participation and access

GEOGRAPHIC FOCUS

New York City

"Art is important because it expands how we look at and understand the world. It can make us think beyond our own experience, and often, in our appreciation, we find things that link us in a common humanity."

-David Rockefeller

The arts are an indispensable part of human experience, building self-awareness, fostering creativity, and encouraging new ways of thinking. The goal of the Arts Program is to enrich individual human experience and help strengthen communities by providing meaningful engagement with and access to the arts. The Fund provides support for organizations that give individuals, who might not otherwise have the opportunity, a chance to participate in the arts in a sustained and substantive way.

The Fund does not accept unsolicited proposals for this program.

Apple Arts NYC

New York, NY

$15,000

Apple Arts NYC provides free, weekly creative arts education workshops during after-school hours for children in two homeless shelters in New York City. Programs range in disciplines from visual to performing arts and other creative mediums. Led by volunteer teaching artists, who are trained to nurture and encourage each participant's creative spirit, Apple Arts NYC gives youth living in challenging conditions individualized attention and an opportunity to engage in the arts.

Artists Striving to End Poverty

New York, NY

$15,000

ASTEP uses the arts as a tool to foster creativity and empower underserved youth. In New York City, ASTEP partners with the International Rescue Committee (IRC) Refugee Youth Program (RYP) providings arts programming to refugee children under the age of 18, many of whom struggle with poverty, discrimination, disruption in or lack of education, and separation from family and peers. ASTEP's arts programs are designed to help break down communication barriers to enable refugee youth to improve English language skills, academic abilities, social and emotional behaviors. Programs are taught by a volunteer base of established and emerging artists.

Bronx Museum

Bronx, NY

$25,000

Education Programs

The Bronx Museum of the Arts (BxMA) is a contemporary art museum located in the South Bronx. An important anchor in the community, the Museum is committed to providing opportunities for arts training and programming for children, youth, families, and teachers that are otherwise unavailable in the Bronx. The DR Fund provides support for the Museum's arts education programming that includes: Family Affair, a weekly gathering with hands-on activities for children and their parents/guardians; Group Visits, a single-session museum tour and art workshop; Teen Council, a sequential 10-month program for high school juniors and seniors; and School Partnerships, a full academic year of in-school arts instruction in three Bronx public schools.

Brooklyn Academy of Music

Brooklyn, NY

$25,000

BAM is a performing and cinema arts center that offers a broad range of cultural programs in theater, dance, music, opera, and cinema. In addition to BAM's regular arts and cultural schedule, it provides extensive in-school workshops; school-time performances; after-school and family programs. The DR Fund supports BAM's arts education programming that serves (along with their teachers and families) 25,000 underserved students from K-12th grade in approximately 200 New York City schools.

Fund for Public Schools

New York, NY

$20,000

Summer Arts Institute

The Summer Arts Institute serves 300 New York City public school students in grades 8 through 12, who demonstrate promise in one of seven art forms (dance, drama, instrumental music, vocal music, photography or visual arts). Students, who are selected through a formal application and audition process, participate in an intensive four-week program, instructed by master arts teachers and professional teaching artists. Participants come from all five boroughs and represent the City's diverse population. The Institute is administered by the New York Department of Education and is designed in partnership with the American Ballet Theater, Theater for a New Audience, Tribeca Film Institute, and Young Audiences New York.

Groove With Me

New York, NY

$20,000

Groove With Me is a free dance school for girls in East Harlem serving 270 girls ages 7-18 with more than 30 weekly classes in hip-hop, tap, ballet, jazz, and NIA (a blend of dance, martial, and healing arts). There are no registration criteria except living in the community and committing to regular class attendance. The program engages girls in a non-judgmental environment where they can be valued for their abilities. Children do not have to pay for class, shoes, trips, costumes, and tickets. Groove With Me also provides space for participants to spend afterschool time before and after class.

Groundswell Community Mural Project

New York, NY

$40,000

Using art as a tool for social change, Groundswell Community Mural Project brings together young people, professional artists, and communities to create public mural art that revitalizes communities, addresses social justice issues, and creates awareness about community problems in under-represented neighborhoods of New York City. Through Groundswell's Summer Leadership Institute, approximately 80 young people ages 12-20, team with professional artists and work in collaboration with a community partner to undertake outdoor public art projects during summer months.

Laundromat Project

New York, NY

$10,000

The Laundromat Project (LP) organizes arts programs in and around Laundromats throughout New York City, engaging people in formal art making activities by bringing art to where communities living on low incomes already gather, the Laundromat. Since 2006, LP has produced 16 public art projects in 25 Laundromats through its two principle programs Works in Progress and Create Change. This grant was made through the Executive Director's spending authority.

Mayor's Fund to Advance New York City Spaceworks

New York, NY

$80,000 over 2 years

Spaceworks is a non-profit intermediary organization that will repurpose existing, underutilized public and private property, and sublease it affordably to artists in NYC as studio and rehearsal space. The idea for establishing this unique entity was conceived by the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs as a response to the ongoing lack of work space for professional and emerging artists in New York City. By creating a permanent network of space for artists embedded in under-resourced neighborhoods, Spaceworks will generate new economic activity, and establish long-term resources for artists and their local communities.

New York University Tisch School of the Arts

New York, NY

$15,000

Talent Identification Program

The DR Fund provides support for Tisch's Talent Identification Program (TIP), which seeks to identify and improve the candidacy of high-need and high-achieving students, who may not have considered Tisch due to its high tuition costs. High school students in this program work with Tisch faculty and participate in an intensive, professional-level training program either in the summer or spring semester.

Queens Museum of Art

Queens, NY

$40,000

The Queens Museum of Art presents artistic and educational programs and exhibitions that directly relate to the contemporary urban life of its constituents. One in two of the Museum's visitors and/or program participants are foreign-born and many are low-income. The DR Fund provides support for the museum's education programs, which are at the center of their outreach efforts to be an accessible resource for the surrounding neighborhoods. They provide a large number of innovative public programs for children, teens, families, and adults of varying, backgrounds, and abilities. The majority of their programs are free and are offered in multiple languages.

Studio Museum in Harlem

New York, NY

$25,000

Expanding the Walls:

Making Connections Between Photography, History and Community

The Studio Museum in Harlem is a contemporary art museum that focuses on the work of artists of African descent as well as work that has been inspired and influenced by African-American culture. The DR Fund's grant supports Expanding the Walls: Making Connections Between Photography, History and Community (ETW), a nine-month photography class for high school students that uses the Museum's James Vander Zee Collection of Harlem photographs as the point of entry for students to share their perspectives.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

EMPHASIS

Criminal justice reform and re-entry services

GEOGRAPHIC FOCUS

National & New York City

"The mood and temper of the public in regard to the treatment of crime and criminals is one of the most unfailing tests of the civilisation of any country."

-Winston Churchill

The U.S. incarceration rate is the highest in the world, either as a percentage of population or in absolute numbers. Approximately 2.4 million people are now behind bars, and there are approximately 17.5 million admissions to jail or prison annually. African-Americans, for example, represent just 13% of the general population but account for 49% of the prison and jail population. The recidivism rate is equally alarming, with two-thirds of those released from U.S. jails and prisons sent back within three years.

The goal of the Criminal Justice Program is to promote a more fair and humane criminal justice system in the United States and New York City. With an emphasis on criminal justice reform and re-entry services, the Fund supports organizations that advocate on behalf of prison reform and a rethinking of our current incarceration philosophy. It also supports non-profits that provide pre- and post-release services, with a focus on family and community re-integration.

The Fund does not accept unsolicited proposals for this program.

Center for Court Innovation

Brooklyn, NY

$30,000

Brownsville Youth Court

The Center for Court Innovation (CCI) was founded as a public/private partnership between the New York State Unified Court System and the Fund for the City of New York. CCI helps the justice system aid victims, reduce crime, strengthen neighborhoods, and improve public trust in justice. The Brownsville Youth Court is CCI's newest program. Modeled after CCI's successful youth courts in Harlem and Red Hook the Youth Court aims to empower young people to effect change in their community. Using positive peer pressure, the Youth Court trains local teenagers to serve as jurors, judges, and advocates and to hear real cases involving their peers. Youth Court participants "members" are recruited to address two primary needs: 1) the absence of productive after-school youth leadership opportunities; and 2) the need for meaningful alternatives to the justice system for low-level offenders.

Fortune Society

Queens, NY

$30,000

Better Living Center

A leading re-entry service organization, the Fortune Society serves as a primary resource for over 3,000 formerly incarcerated New York City men and women annually. Fortune provides a holistic "one-stop" model of comprehensive supportive services including housing; substance abuse treatment; HIV-specific health services; employment services; education; discharge planning; benefits enrollment; case management; and lifetime aftercare. The DR Fund supports Fortunes's "Better Living Center," an initiative that provides licensed professional outpatient mental health services on-site at their Queens headquarters.

Getting Out & Staying Out

New York, NY

$25,000

Getting Out & Staying Out is as a mentoring program that offers a distinct group of services for young men between the ages of 18 and 24, who are transitioning from incarceration back into daily life. The GO&SO program model has three goals: 1) Further participants' education in GED programs, colleges, and trade schools; 2) Secure directed employment which will lead to a satisfying career; and 3) Achieve early release from parole and probation when appropriate.

Mayor's Fund to Advance New York City

New York, NY $25,000

New York City Department of Probation

The New York City Department of Probation (DOP) handles sentences that are imposed by a criminal court or family court. In general, probationers are released in the community without serving a period of local incarceration, although in certain circumstances they may be sentenced to both imprisonment (local) and probation. The DR Fund provides support for Department of Probation staff trainings for probation officers assigned with separate adolescent case-loads, (historically adolescents have been mixed with adult caseloads). This will allow probation officers to better understand the specific needs of this age-group, particularly since they are at the highest risk of re-offending, dropping out of school, and engaging in high-risk behaviors.

Sentencing Project

Washington, D.C. $30,000

The Sentencing Project (SP), works throughout the United States for a fair and effective criminal justice system by promoting reforms in sentencing policy, addressing unjust racial disparities, and advocating for alternatives to incarceration. The DR Fund provides general opearating support for the SP's work reducing the number of people in prison in the US; racial injustice and disparities; the elimination of sentences of juvenile life-without-parole, and felony disenfranchisement leading up to the 2012 election.

Vera institute of Justice

New York, NY

$50,000

Center on Youth Justice-Brooklyn Initiative

In an effort to reduce recidivism and develop a more humane and cost-effective approach to its treatment of juvenile offenders, the New York State Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS) enlisted the help of the Vera Institute of Justice (Vera) and the Missouri Youth Services Institute (MYSI) to develop the Brooklyn for Brooklyn Initiative. This program is a pilot initiative that allows young people placed in state custody to remain close to home with appropriate services and supports, instead of being sent to a detention facility several hundred miles away.

ENVIRONMENT

EMPHASIS

Reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, energy conservation, and sustainability

GEOGRAPHIC FOCUS

National and local Northeastern communities

"The care of the Earth is our most ancient and most worthy, and after all our most pleasing responsibility.
To cherish what remains of it and to foster its renewal is our only hope."

-Wendell Berry

With just 5% of the world's population, the U.S. consumes 25% of all global energy resources. On average, each American home emits 23,000 pounds of carbon dioxide annually. Concentrations of carbon dioxide are now higher than at any time in the past 700,000 years. Clearly, this is not sustainable.

The goal of the Environment Program is to address issues related to greenhouse gas emissions and climate change in order to promote a healthier, more sustainable planet. Working at the national, state, and local levels the Fund supports organizations that advocate for the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and highlight the negative effects of excessive carbon consumption in the U.S. The fund is currently supporting advocacy efforts that seek to reduce and/or eliminate the use of coal and related industries in the Southeastern United States as well as work that promotes energy efficiency measures in the Northeastern United States.

The Fund also supports locally-based activities in the Northeast focusing on relocalization (strengthening and increasing access to local resources such as food and energy) and reskilling (promoting traditional self-reliance tools such as food preservation and gardening).

 ${\it The Fund does \ not \ accept \ unsolicited \ proposals \ for \ this \ program.}$

Added Value Brooklyn, NY $25,000

Added Value promotes the sustainable development of Red Hook in South Brooklyn by mentoring a new generation of young leaders. Founded in 2001 to address the lack of meaningful educational and employment opportunities in the area, Added Value provides teenagers living in this largely industrial community the opportunity to help operate its 2.75 acre working farm. Each year, 40 young people between the ages of 14 and 19 to work on the farm, trained to develop related business ventures, and do community advocacy and outreach on environmental and food justice issues. Participants are paid a stipend that for many families represents a meaningful increase in income.

Center for Working Families New York, NY $25,000 Green Jobs/Green NY

The Center for Working Families (CWF) collaborates with community-based organizations, policy advocates, labor unions, environmental organizations, and elected officials across New York State. The DR Fund's grant supports CWF's involvement in the implementation of Green Jobs/Green NY (GJGNY), the largest residential retrofit program ever initiated in the United States. Fully implemented, the program will reduce energy consumption in one million homes over five years by 30% to 40 and save New York households more than $1 billion annually in energy costs.

Community Labor United (CLU) Boston, MA $50,000 Green Justice Coalition Campaign

Community Labor United (CLU) is a non-profit community-based organization that works with other organizations and labor unions to promote the interests of low- and middle-income working families in the greater Boston area and the state of Massachusetts. The DR Fund's grant supports the CLU's Green Justice Coalition Campaign. Since 2008, the Campaign has been working to expand energy efficiency and weatherization programs for working class and lower-income communities that have traditionally been left out of the green market economy. By insisting on job standards and local hiring requirements, the program will create living wage jobs for new and existing workers, as well as establish career ladder training programs to connect new workers from lower-income communities and communities of color.

DC Project

Washington, DC

$40,000

The DC Project recruits community organizations into collective purchasing groups as a way to leverage their purchasing power. The DR Fund supports the DC Project's Community Energy Purchase initiative and the Neighborhood Weatherization Project "Weatherize DC." The Community Energy Purchase initiative organizes faith and mission-based institutions to purchase renewably sourced energy together. By buying together institutions in the collective are able to pay significantly lower rates for electricity while also creating benefits for the community and environment. In its first purchase, the DC Project was able to mobilize 11 local churches to solicit reduced-rate bids for electricity, most of it from renewable energy sources and local suppliers.

Design Trust for Public Space

New York, NY

$5,000

Five Borough Farm

The Design Trust is committed to improving the design, utility and understanding of New York City's public spaces. The Trust's Five Borough Farm project is the first-ever citywide plan for urban agriculture in New York City. Through an extensive examination of New York City's existing agricultural programs, the Project develops policy recommendations for city officials, as well as establish a communications and outreach program. The DR Fund provided matching funds for a film component to be added to the project website that will serve as a virtual town square for urban farmers, advocates, and city officials while collecting meaningful data for further policy analysis. This grant was made through the Executive Director's spending authority.

El Puente

Brooklyn, NY

$15,000

Greenlight District Initiative

Working with 2,000 young people each year, El Puente is a community and youth development organization. For the past 28 years, El Puente has been working with the residents of Williamsburg and Bushwick, Brooklyn to address lack of open space and high levels of pollution. The DR Fund provided early support to the Green Light District initiative, a proposed neighborhood improvement project aimed at significantly reducing the community's carbon footprint and substantially lowering pollution and toxicity levels through projects ranging from community education to retrofitting homes for greater energy efficiency.

Food Corps

New York, NY

$60,000 over 2 years

Food Corps is a national school garden and farm-to-school service program based on the Teach for America and AmeriCorps model. Food Corps places young leaders in limited-resourced communities to foster healthy school food environments for one year. Food Corsp members works in public schools in 10 states throughout the US, developing programs that provide food education; establish school gardens; and advocate for sourcing local foods in school cafeterias.

Kentucky Coalition

London, KY

$50,000

The Kentucky Coalition is the 501(c)3 arm of Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, a non-partisan statewide citizens' organization. The Coalition uses direct action to challenge unfair political, economic and social systems in Kentucky. It does this through a number of initiatives including running advocacy programs that promote energy-efficiency and renewable energy, opposing the construction of new coal-burning power plants; and addressing the region's over-reliance on coal to drive its economy.

Mountain Association for Community Development (MACED) Berea, KY

$25,000

Established in 1976, MACED seeks to establish a sustainable regional economy that meets the needs of low-income people and protects natural resources in Central Appalachia. MACED's hybrid model combines enterprise development, research and policy, and demonstration projects to model alternatives to the region's current approaches to energy and economy. As part of its programs, MACED operates a revolving loan fund for energy efficiency and economic development projects in the region.

Rockefeller Family Fund

New York, NY

$25,000

National Coal Program

Created in 1967, The Rockefeller Family Fund (RFF) is a public foundation supporting advocacy-based programs in the areas of Citizen Participation and Government Accountability, Economic Justice for Women, Environment, and Institutional Responsiveness. The DR Fund supports the RFF's National Coal Program (NCP), created in 2008 to combat climate change, to promote the transition to a clean energy economy in the United States, and to encourage other foundations to join in the effort to halt the development of new coal-fired power plants.

Sustainable Endowments Institute Cambrdige, MA $25,000Billion Dollar Green Challage

Founded in 2005, The Sustainable Endowments Institute (SEI) seeks to harness the power of energy efficiency as a low-cost energy resource. Through its annual Sustainability Report Card, which researches and evaluates sustainability programs and policies at more than 322 schools in the US and Canada, SEI has learned that less than 5% of the surveyed schools' building space—45,000 buildings—have been retrofitted to achieve significant energy and water savings. As a result, SEI has initiated "The Billion Dollar Green Challenge" that focuses on the benefits of energy efficiency as a smart investment strategy for Universities. The Initiative will advocate for colleges and universities to invest a combined total of one billion dollars, within two years, in self-managed "Green Revolving Funds" (GRFs) that will allow schools to achieve sizable energy savings and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

COMMUNITY

The Community Program (previously the Citizenship Program) provides support for over 80 charitable and public organizations in communities where David Rockefeller lives outside of New York City: principally Mt. Desert Island, Maine; the Tarrytown area of Westchester County; New York, and the Livingston area of Columbia County, New York. All grants in the Citizenship program are for general operating support unless otherwise noted.

In 2011, 86 grants were awarded to 82 organizations totaling $255,250
